PART 2: EFFECTIVE GRANT-WRITING STRATEGIES

Wednesday, May 4th, 10:00-11:30am
3001 Plant & Environmental Sciences (PES)

DESCRIPTION: A panel of Social Science faculty successful at obtaining grants and fellowships will discuss effective grant-writing strategies. Topics may include best practices, lessons learned, understanding the priorities of the funding agencies, writing to the reviewers, how grant-writing differs from peer-reviewed journal articles and book manuscripts, and considering the broad implications of your research program. Light refreshments will be provided.

Please Register HERE!

Faculty Panelists:

Dr. George Barnett is a Distinguished Professor and former Chair of the Department of Communication at UC Davis. He has received grants for the study of network science, telecommunications, international/intercultural communication, and health communication from the National Science Foundation, Army Research Labs, Office of Naval Research, Quebec Ministry of International Affairs, Baldy Center for Law & Social Policy, and Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA).

Dr. Giovanni Peri is Professor and Chair of the Department of Economics and Director of the UC Davis Temporary Migration Cluster, an interdisciplinary group doing research on international migrations. He has received several grants for the study of international migrations from foundations and international organizations, including the National Science Foundation, the MacArthur Foundation, the World Bank, and the Volkswagen Foundation. Dr. Peri has served as a grant reviewer for multiple organizations, including the National Research Council, National Science Foundation, and Carnegie Foundation.

Dr. Charles Walker is a Professor of History and Director of the Hemispheric Institute on the Americas at UC Davis. He is also a MacArthur Foundation Endowed Chair in International Human Rights. Dr. Walker has held fellowships from the National Endowment of the Humanities, American Council of Learned Societies, Social Science Research Council (SSRC), the American Philosophical Society, the Tinker Foundation, the MacArthur Foundation, and the University of California President’s Fellowship in the Humanities. He currently serves on the SSRC International Dissertation Fellowship Selection Committee.

Workshop Organizer: Lauren Berger is a PhD Candidate in the Psychology Department, the Associate Director of the Asian American Center on Disparities Research (AACDR), and a fellow in the Professors for the Future Program. Please contact Lauren (lkberger@ucdavis.edu) with questions or requests for additional information regarding the Grant-Writing Workshop Series for the Social Sciences.
